InfoMentis Wins Prestigious Turknett Leadership Character Award

The Organization Leadership Character award was presented to InfoMentis on Monday, February 6th at the Third Annual Turknett Leadership Character Awards Luncheon held at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Atlanta. Individuals and organizations were judged based on criteria drawn from Turknett's Leadership Character Model, which included Integrity, Respect, Responsibility and Character.

Kent "Oz" Nelson, former Chairman and CEO of UPS, presented the award and highlighted two key InfoMentis principles: "Integrity is a journey, not a rule book" and "Do the right thing and the money will come." Other nominees in this category were Jenny Pruitt & Associates and BellSouth Small Business.

Accepting the award on behalf of InfoMentis was Wendy Reed, Founder and CEO. "InfoMentis continues to live by this guiding principle – 'Do the right thing and the money will come'. If each of you would carry that message with you today, together we could change the way organizations interact with their customers," said Reed. Receiving this award is an incredible honor, as the award was presented to InfoMentis based on the integrity, respect, responsibility and character we demonstrate as an organization to each other, our prospects and our clients. This is the highest compliment I could ask for," continued Reed.

Other award winners included:

- CEO/President/Partner Category - Jim Huling - Matrix Resources, Inc.
- Executive/Manager Category - Velencia Adams - BellSouth Corp. / Ken Uhlig - Earthlink
- Associate Category - Vic Kimble - UPS
- Non-Profit Category - Harriet Hessam, Girl Scout Council of NW GA

Also participating in honoring the nominees and winners was Kennesaw State University's RTM Institute for Leadership, Ethics and Character.
